He met and greeted his faculty members, mentors, and Dy. Director of Alumni Relations- Prof. (Dr.) Anupam Narula. He met with Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor Prof. (Dr.) Balvinder Shukla to seek her blessings. In the meeting with Vice-Chancellor, he shared his experiences during his university days and appreciated the ethics and sanskaras provided by Amity to its students. Mr. Gaurav further extended the discussion to the upliftment of Alumni Relations and networking of Amity University all over the globe. He ensured his future participation in the various events conducted at the university as well as at the institutional level.

Amity University is incredibly grateful for the overwhelming generosity and support provided by Alumni to the alma mater.

ALUMNI SPEAKS

Mr. Anant Deep
Assistant Manager (Public Affairs)
Pfizer Vizag
BJMC, Class of 2014
ASCO- Lucknow

'ASCO helped me become a Jack of all trades.'

"Coming from a far-flung area of the country, the environment at Amity University was no less than a fairy tale for me. To put it bluntly, it was a cultural shock because, for the first time in my life, I got a chance to interact with such a diverse group of students when I joined the university in 2011. At ASCO, I evolved from a shy individual to a confident person. The faculty helped me to improve and build my confidence by sharing responsibilities for events and programs that are a part of my Amity journey.

Currently working as Assistant Manager- (Public-Affairs) leading in an Internal Communications role with Pfizer Vizag, (the world's leading pharmaceutical company listed in Fortune 100), as a public relations professional, I can always say that an individual should excel in one trait by being the jack of all trade.

I would love to highlight how ASCO truly nurtures you to make industry-ready professional. I remember getting an earful while learning camera handling and even praises on a decent research report submission. My journey towards professional life also started within Amity at the 'Innovation Incubation Centre' at the Noida campus.

ASCO made me work so hard that my projects and extra-curricular activities were recognized, and I was identified for a PR role in Amity's own Infosec Start-up company. In every single ladder I climb, ASCO is always the foundation of my success. The environment of ASCO is such that it has all the capabilities to train, inculcate confidence and bring out the best in a student to make him/her industry ready. The course is designed and delivered in such a way that all six semesters will make you fall in love with each field of communication and journalism.

So, enjoy your journey because this is what you will remember the most when you climb the ladder of success."

Mr. Suraj Raj Karki
Director, Khandan Foods Service Management Pvt. Ltd
Director, Evolve Consultants
COO, Mad Compass, Nepal
BBA (TM), Class of 2016, AIIT, Noida

"Amity University has given me tremendous memories. Amity University has a marvellous infrastructure. Even though the weather was extreme, the college took us to another world. From computer labs to health clubs, a state-of-the-art library, and a gymnasium, it has all the required amenities.

The faculty members at AITT, Noida have been wonderful. After six years of graduation, I can still turn to my faculty members and ask for help without any hesitation, and they deliver as much as they can.

The curriculum offered at AITT has really helped me to develop an insight into the industry. I was successfully assessing the tourism industry of my own country with the guidance and learning achieved at Amity University. AITT showed me that my career is not only limited to a travel agency or a tour operator, but it's much more than that.

The military training camp and different trips offered by the institution has different benefit attached to them which makes all the batch mates together to create a deeper bond.

Nonetheless, AITT, Noida has played a big role in my transformation from being a student, to an employee and now as an entrepreneur. One heck of a journey, this would not have been possible without the education, experience, and faculty support I gathered at my wonderful Alma Mater, Amity University."

TESTIMONIALS

Mr. Midhat Ullah Hasani
Video Journalist, BBC
BJ&MC, Class of 2016
ASCO- Lucknow

"Every day is not the same in the media, and similarly, each day was filled with different colors at Amity University. From ups to downs and from triumphs to failures, life has been peppered with different emotions. As someone who is now loved by seniors at work, I believe that the values I learned at Amity School of Communication (ASCO), Lucknow helped me to carve a niche in the professional circuit."

Ms. Areeba Naseem
Video Producer, Brut India
BJMC, Class of 2016
ASCO- Lucknow

"Life is all about exploring and experimenting. Amity School of Communication (ASCO), Lucknow offered various platforms and gave fire to my inquisitive nature, which I believe is still helping me grow both personally and professionally. I went to ASCO as a student and walked out as a professional journalist, proving myself one day at a time."

Ms. Ananya Walia
YouTuber & Blogger
BJMC, Class of 2018
ASCO- Lucknow

"Amity School of Communication (ASCO), Lucknow gave me an opportunity to explore myself. Being an introvert, I was reluctant towards many things. With each passing year, this university groomed me and turned me into a confident individual. With knowledge of social media and digital marketing, I am excelling as a YouTuber and blogger. Thank you, ASCO, for making me the best version of myself."

Dr Kashif Hasan
Asst Professor- MIT ADT University
PhD. (Full Time), Class of 2019
ASCO- Lucknow

"The Ph.D. programme at Amity School of Communication (ASCO), Lucknow gave me opportunities to explore my field of study deeply. I received guidance from brilliant professors who mentored me all along the way. Amity also prepared me for a successful career in academia. It is a privilege to be a part of such an esteemed institute."

Ms. Dheerika Pander
System Engineer, TCS
B. Tech (ECE), Class of 2021
ASET- ECE, Noida

"Amity University has shaped me, and students like me in every aspect, from my education and qualification to the person that I am today. The faculties here have always encouraged the students to move out of their comfort zones and explore options unknown to the research. The International conferences provided a lot of exposure to students. The ASET (ECE) department not only gave their best to provide us with quality education but also made sure that we got enough experience in the professional world. We were provided many opportunities in terms of internships and training. The university is very well known for its placements and I as a student experienced it first-hand. Despite it being a pandemic, Amity has managed to place all the students".
